Commercial Litigation Attorney

Description

Seeks an experienced commercial litigation attorney. The selected candidate will lead the firm's litigation department. The ideal candidate will have extensive trial experience, and knowledge and experience litigating a case from the cradle to the grave. This is an ideal position for an experienced attorney who enjoys the ins and outs of litigation, and mentorship. From the onset, the person filling this role will be working extensively on one of our bigger litigation cases. Our firm deals primarily with immigration and transactional related matters, and now we have a need for an experienced attorney to lead our litigation department.

Our ideal candidate will have 12-15 years (with the right experience, this number is workable) experience as a seasoned Commercial Litigation Attorney.

Qualifications

As it relates to the skill set – the candidate must have extensive trial experience and experience in Motion practice. This is a heavily litigated case he/she will be working on immediately. An individual who started their career off as a prosecutor or public defendant would be ideal, which further translated to successful civil trials. The candidate will also have a history of successfully litigating the following types of hearings – (1) Motion to Dismiss; (2) Motion to Transfer Venues; (3) Motion for Summary judgment; and (4) Motions to Consolidate. They must be more than comfortable appearing in front of a Judge.
